Long Term (Daily, Weekly) Trading

- In long term trading we just use patterns and price rejection strategies similar to short term trading but this time on daily and weekly charts. A very important advantage of long term trading is that we have quite enough time to analyze our trade and reach a very accurate trading decision.

Multiple Time Frames Strategy

- Short term (1 hour) charts may lead us to wrong trading decisions. To have a bigger more accurate picture from the price action we always need to check longer (4H or daily) time frames. It will greatly help us to filter out bad trades.
